EPH LILLARD TAKES HIS OWN LIFE AT DANVILLE

Boyle Representative Who Voted For Bradley for Senator Shoots Himself In Head At His Home

The sucide of Col. E. W. Lillard at Danville Wednesday shocked ev-eryone in this part of the state. A dispatch from Danville to the Courier Journal Thursday morning told the following story of the unfortunate affair: Col. E. W. Lillard, former Representative in the Legislature, from Boyle county, committed suicide this afternoon by shooting himself in the head at his home on South Second stereet. As a member of the legislature he gained wide notice with three other Democrats who refused to vote for Gov. J. C. W. Beckham for United States Senator, and voted for the late W. O. Bradley, who was elected. He left nothing to indicate what actuated him in his tragic act. He used a 32-calibre revolver and SAYS STORY WAS A FRAME-UP West Virginia Negro Now Says Detective Was After Reward.

The mix-up over the mystery of who killed the little white girl, Zelma Young at Danville, has assumed a remarkable aspect. John Walker, the West Virginia negro, who swore on examining trial that the other negro John Price, confessed to him that he did the killing, now says that the whole story was a frame-up, and that there is no foundation for his story except that he and the detective who arrested the negroes, wanted to get the reward. The Danville Advocate this week printed this atom of the control of garden seed and a sack of flower seed from Senator Ollie M.
